11 July 1955

Mr. Roger W. Jones
Assistant Director for Legislative Reference
Bureau of the Budget
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Jones:

This is in reply to your referral of 8 July 1955, requesting the comments of this Agency on Enrolled Bill S. 609 to provide rewards for information concerning the illegal introduction into the United States, or the illegal manufacture or acquisition in the United States, of special nuclear material and atomic weapons.

In the light of the legislative history of S. 609, and its predecessor which failed of passage in the Sird Congress, we interpose no objection to the inclusion of the Director of Central Intelligence as a member of the Awar is Board created by its provisions, or the inclusion of the Director among those making joint determinations as to whether aliens furnishing appropriate information under the terms of the Act may be admitted into the United States for permanent residence under Section 4 of the bill.

It would appear from the language of Section 6 that the payment of any awards approved by the Awards Board would be made from funds available to the Director of Central Intelligence. As there is no yardstick by which one can presently measure these awards either as to their number or total arount, it is apparent that it will be impractical to budget in advance for their payment. It is also impossible to estimate at this time what additional costs may be entailed for screening or investigating claims overseas for awards under this Act. It is, therefore, necessary to seek the assurances of the Bureau of the Budget that CIA will be authorized to make any necessary payments from its reserve fund, which, it is felt, contemplates contingencies of this type.

As a matter of principle we would raise some objection to the assessment of the CIA budget for matters over which we do not have direct control. However, in view of the Congressional injent that these awards should be paid, and the nature of the possible source of such information, our objection does not take the form of an adverse recommendation on S. 609. Its approval is recommended.

Simerely yours,

Walter L. Pforsheimer Legislative Counsel

3. Congressional action has been completed on 3. 609, the Atomic Weapons Rewards Act of 1955. This bill provides awards for any person who furnishes original information to the United States leading to the finding of any nuclear material or atomic weapon which has been illegally introduced into or manufactured in the United States, or any attempt in that connection, and provides for awards up to $500,000. An Awards Board is designated, consisting of the Secretaries of the Treasury and Defense, the Attorney General, the DCI and a member of the AEC. If the information is furnished by an alien, the Secretary of State, the Attorney General and the DCI acting jointly may determine that such alien may be admitted into the United States for permanent residence without regard to the Immigration and Nationality Act. The bill further provides that any awards made by the Board shall be paid by the DCI from funds appropriated or available for the administration of the National Security Act of 1947.

You will note the inclusion of the DCI in various provisions of the attached bill. Although the DCI did not appear in the original draft of the legislation as first submitted in the 83rd Congress, he was included in the bill as reported out of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy last year on the insistence of the members of that Committee.

S. 609 is a reintroduction into the 84th Congress of a bill as reported out and as it passed the House last year. There was not Senate action. However, there is no reason to believe that the Committee views have changed in respect to the desire to continue to include the DCI in its terms.

Comments:

Inasmuch as the DCI will probably be included as a Board Member, it might be wise to look into tightening the legislation. For example, it appears to be taken for granted that the word "introduced" is limited to clandestine activity. However, this is not clear and reports of attempted introduction by other means could be made the foundation for a claim for a reward. Thus one gets into definitions of "attempt". Is manufacture of nuclear wearens by potential enemies an "attempt"? Or must there be actual initiation of transportation? Furthermore is the manufacture in the US of non-nuclear components of atomic weapons evidence of an attempt and reports of such activity the basis for a reward? Other similar questions suggest themselves which indicate the basic looseness of the drafting.

The alternative, of course, is to get the DCI off the Board.

Mr. Roger W. Jones

Bureau of the Budget

Dear Mr. Jones:

This is in reply to your referral of 8 July 1955, requesting the comments of this Agency on Enrolled Bill 8. 609 to provide rewards for information concerning the illegal introduction into the United States, or the illegal manufacture or acquisition in the United States, of special nuclear material as atomic weapons.

In the light of the legislative history of 5, 609, and its predecessor which failed of passage in the Sird Congress, we interpose no objection to the inclusion of the Director of Central Intelligence as a member of the Awar in Board created by its provisions, or the inclusion of the Director among those making joint determinations as to whether aliens furnishing appropriate information under the terms of the Act may be admitted into the United States for permanent residence under Section 4 of the bill.

It would appear from the language of Section 6 that the payment of any awards approved by the Awards Board would be made from funds available to the Director of Central Intelligence. As there is no yardstick by which one can presently measure these awards either as to their number or total amount, it is apparent that it will be impractical to budget in indvance for their payment. It is also impossible to estimate at this time what additional cests may be entailed for acreening or investigating claims overseas for awards under this Act. It is, therefore, necessary to seek the assurances of the Bureau of the Budget that CIA will be authorized to make any necessary payments from its reserve fund, which, it is felt, contemplates contingencies of this type.

As a matter of principle we would raise some objection to the assessment of the CIA budget for patters over which we do not have direct control. However, in view of the Congressional intent that these awards should be paid, and the nature of the possible source of such information, our objection does not take the form of an adverse recommendation on S. 609. Its approval is recommended.

MENORANIZUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Proposed Bill for Bewards for Amdering Information on Atomic Schergy Matters

- providing for rewards up to $500,000 to gursons furnishing original information to the United States about the introduction of special nuclear material or atomic veapons into the United States. The bills also provide for anylum of any aliens furnishing such information if determined by the Attorney General to be in the mattenal interest.
- 2. This bill was requested by the biministration as a result of action by the Mational Security Council which awarded sponsorable to the Department of Justice. Justice requested that CIA appear in support of the bill at an Executive Estring on 11 August at 10 a.m. The Director authorised Mr. Houston to represent the Agency's views. Mr. Thompkins of the Department of Justice's Internal Security Division spoke for the Administration, and the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy indicated general approval of the purposes of the bill.
- 3. Questions were directed, however, to the consideration whether the scretary rewards and the neybus could not be accomplished under authorities already gives to CIA. On direct questioning by the Chairman, Mr. Houston stated that technically CIA had legal authority to take both actions, but that if the information were furnished within the country shout material or vespous already introduced, the matter would be one solely of internal security and there might be a question of the propriety of CIA making any payments in this connection. The Department of Justice pointed out that a specific bill directed towards atomic information would have great psychological impact, thus tending to induce the desired information, and this position was supported by Mr. Houston.
- 4. Senator Pastors repeatedly questioned whether the U.S. officers and employees should be barred from sharing in the momentary rewards as provided by the bull. The Department of Justice took no strong stand on this point, but Mr. Rose of the Treasury Department pointed out that this was similar to provisions in regard to Customs Officials and rewards under Customs authorities. Mr. Houston stated that CIA did not believe it appropriate for its staff officers to be sotivated by hope if reward either in reporting information coming to their attention or in distracting them from their assigned duties in other fields of information. He referred to existing legislation prohibiting additional compensation for work required by an employee's official duties. He did state that CIA felt that those furnishing information on any terms other than staff employment should be entitled to appropriate rewards. Mr. Kilday of Texas suggested that employees not be specifically barred in the Act but that existing have take core of the situation so that employees not having intelligence or law-enforcement duties might be eligible for monetary rewards.

5. Mr. Durham of North Carolina a.z. Chairman Cole suggested that the Director of Central Intelligence anough be made a member of the board consisting of the Atomic Emrgy Commission, Attorney General, and the Secretary of Defense, Maich under the bill would determine the amount of the reward. Mr. Houston stated that he fild not believe the Director needed to become a member of the board as he would probably be responsible, at least in some instances, for evaluating the information and would act in an advisory capacity to the board. Mr. Durham suggested that the IAC should determine the amount of the reward and the bill sexual so state. Mr. Houston and Mr. Pforzheimer reminded Mr. Durbas that the IAC was advisory to the Director of Central Intelligence and it would tend to disrupt the relationship if the IAC were given a statutory function of this nature. Mr. Houston suggested dist of it were necessary to include the intelligence component at all, the Director of Central Intelligence alone should be named. Mr. Durham appeared to agree with this view.

REPORT No. 901

ATOMIC WEAPONS REWARDS ACT OF 1955

June 23, 1955.—Committed to the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union and ordered to be printed

Mr. Cole, from the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, submitted the following

REPORT

[To accompany H. R. 6901]

The Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, to whom was referred the bill (H. R. 6901) to provide rewards for information concerning the illegal introduction into the United States, or the illegal manufacture or acquisition in the United States, of special nuclear material and atomic weapons, having considered the same, unanimously report favorably thereon with an amendment and recommend that the bill

The amendment inserts the words "the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico," after the word "includes" and before the word "all" in section

DANGERS OF COVERT INTRODUCTION OF ATOMIC WEAPONS OR MATERIALS FOR PRODUCING ATOMIC WEAPONS INTO THE UNITED STATES

The primary purpose of H. R. 6901 is to authorize the payment of rewards to persons who supply original information to the United States Government with respect to any attempt to introduce covertly atomic weapons or materials for producing atomic weapons into the United States or who supply original information leading to the finding of any illegally introduced atomic weapons or materials for producing atomic weapons.

Since the atomic weapon monopoly of the United States ended, it has been possible for an enemy nation to smuggle nuclear devices or special nuclear material into this country and thereby destroy vital targets prior to or following the commencement of hostilities. With passing time, the destructive yield of atomic weapons has increased with attendant advancements in the art of weaponeering. It must be assumed that potential enemies can now devise small atomic weapons, so constructed as to minimize the chance of detection by customs, by counterintelligence, or defense personnel. This potential constitutes a grave risk to the common defense and security of the United States

Our Government will continue to exercise its full efforts in making available technical means of uncovering such secretly introduced devices. This bill will assist the effort by increasing our chance of learning in advance of such enemy action.

The genesis of the bill was a National Security Council recommendation in 1954. Subsequently, on July 29, 1954, the Attorney General in a communication to the Speaker forwarded a draft bill. After introduction in the Senate and in the House of Representatives, that bill was referred to the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy. The Joint Committee on Atomic Energy considered that bill (H. R. 10203) at meetings on August 11, 1954, and heard witnesses from the executive branch.

Representatives of the Department of Justice, the Immigration and Naturalization Service, the Treasury Department, the Bureau of Customs, the Atomic Energy Commission, and the Central Intelligence Agency testified before the Joint Committee and recommended the enactment of legislation to meet these objectives. It was the view of the executive-branch witnesses that the proposed bill would materially strengthen the internal security of the United States and would provide an alert to our citizens to the need for vigilance. It would also, because of its provisions for reward and for sanctuary of aliens, encourage aliens to furnish information about such unauthorized and dangerous activities.

The Joint Committee recommended passage of this legislation in the 83d Congress. The House of Representatives did pass it on August 17, 1954, but the Senate failed to consider the measure.

The identical bill, as recommended by the Joint Committee, was forwarded to the Speaker by the Attorney General on January 18, 1955 (the Attorney General's letter will be found on p. 3). The Joint Committee has, again, recommended the enactment of the bill.

This legislative proposal has the endorsement of the Bureau of the Budget, and the Joint Committee has been advised that its enactment would be in accord with the program of the President.

PROVISIONS OF THE BILL

The bill provides (sec. 2) that the United States Government shall grant a reward, not to exceed $500,000, to any person who furnishes original information to the United States leading to the finding or other acquisition of atomic devices which are illegally in the country or any information regarding an attempt to introduce, manufacture, or acquire the same.

Section 3 authorizes an Awards Board to determine the merits of a claim for this reward. The Board will consist of the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of Defense, the Attorney General, the Director of Central Intelligence, and of one member of the Atomic Energy Commission to be designated by the Commission. The President is to approve any award over $50,000.

The Board will determine whether or not the information is of the type specified in section 2 and further establish the merits of the claim of an officer or employee of the United States considering the scope of his duties.

Section 4 considers the possibility that a citizen of a foreign state who would furnish the information specified in section 2 could be the subject of reprisal. This section therefore provides authority for offering the sanctuary of a permanent residence in the United States to such an individual upon the joint determination of the Secretary of State, the Attorney General, and the Director of Central Intelligence that the entry and granting of visas to such an individual and to members of his immediate family is in the public interest. The provisions of this section were amended in the committee in view of the provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act which was passed in 1950. The original provisions have been based on the provisions of the National Security Act of 1947. The present language parallels the provisions in section 212 of the Immigration Act, and the Director of Immigration and Naturalization under the terms of the act is responsible for all of the functions assigned to the Attorney General.

Section 5 grants administrative powers to the Awards Board. Section 6 provides that upon certification of the Awards Board and approval by the President, the reward is payable out of appropriations for the administration of the National Security Act of 1947.

Section 7 recites the definitions of the terms used in the act and defines the terms "atomic energy," "atomic weapon," "special nuclear material" and "United States." These definitions are based on the definitions reflected in the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 or in the Immigration and Nationality Act.

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT, Washington, D. C., January 18, 1955.

The SPEAKER, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: There is attached for your consideration and appropriate DEAR MR. SPEAKER: There is attached for your consideration and appropriate action a legislative proposal to provide rewards for information concerning the illegal introduction into the United States, or the illegal manufacture or acquisition in the United States, of special nuclear material and atomic weapons.

The National Security Council has made a study of the problem of the possible illegal introduction into the United States, and the illegal manufacture and acquisition in the United States, of various atomic materials or weapons, the presence of which would constitute a threat to the security of the Nation and the welfare of its people.

The attached bill which implements the Council's recommendation, is designed to set up a system of rewards for original information leading to the acquisition by the United States of special nuclear material or atomic weapons which have been illegally brought into the United States, its Territories, or possessions, or the District of Columbia, or which have been illegally manufactured or acquired therein. It is also designed to set up a system of rewards for original information with respect to attempts illegally to introduce, manufacture, or acquire such material or weapons.

It is believed that this proposal will materially strengthen the internal security of the United States by alerting the people thereof to the need for vigilance, and by providing a monetary reward for informants. It will likewise, by reason of its provisions for reward and for immigration to the United States for permanent residence, encourage aliens to furnish information about the unauthorized introduction.

duction, manufacture, or acquisition of special nuclear material or atomic weapons.

This legislation in the form in which it is transmitted herewith was passed by the House of Representatives (H. R. 10203, 83d Cong.), and reported favorably in the Senate by the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy (S. 3851), 83d Cong.),
